SIMILARITIES

To explore spiritual narratives resonant with Sapientism, consider these foundational cultures that profoundly shaped human society, science, and religion throughout history:

Africa:

-Earliest Egyptian Religion

-Nubian Religion

-Punic/Canaanite Religion

-Dogon Religion

-Yoruba Religion

-Shamanism & Magic

-Igbo Religion

-Earliest forms of non-dualistic Monotheism & Polytheism as one

(Example: The Neter as emanations of Atari or Amen or Ausar or Wusa)

Asia:

-Canaanite Religion

-Ugaritic Religion

-Mesopotamian Religion

-Elamite Religion

-Taoism

-Bön

-Shamanism & Magic

-Earliest forms of non-dualistic Monotheism & Polytheism as one

(Example: The Canaanite deities as emanations/children of El and Asherah or Yahweh)

Americas & Pacific:

-Shamanism & Magic

-Animism

-Indigenous Religion

-Aztec Religion

-Maya Religion

-Inca Religion

-Earliest forms of non-dualistic Monotheism & Polytheism as one

(Example: The Teotl as the emanations/offspring of Ometeotl or The Four Tezcatlipocas)

Europe:

-Shamanism & Magic

-Roman Religion

-Greek Religion

-Germanic Religion

-Slavic Religion

-Eurasian/Xiongnu/Hunic/Mongol/Scythian Religions

-Earliest forms of non-dualistic Monotheism & Polytheism as one

(Example: Tengri Khan as the Top God of all the Tengri)

Australia & Polynesia:

-Shamanism & Magic

-Animism

-Aboriginal Religions

-Indigenous Religions

-Earliest forms of non-dualistic Monotheism & Polytheism as one

(The gods as emanations of Rangi and Papa)

CONNECTIONS

The aforementioned spiritual traditions stem from a sapientian source: a source which unites their interconnected („lemurian“, „atlantean“, „golden“) principles into one, singular origin that is both „here and beyond“, both past, present and future, both material and immaterial, cosmic and acosmic.

Consequently, Sapientism fundamentally diverges from dualism, gnosticism, qabbalism, sufism or even dogmatic or anthropocentric interpretations of monotheism, polytheism, animism, shamanism, occultism, alchemy, mysticism, buddhism, taoism, shintoism, satanism or hinduism.

It rejects any idea that suggests an evil, flawed or demiurgic force. Sapientism itself does not deny the value of material existence. Neither does it deny the value of spiritual transcendence. The material world is not a prison to be overcome but a wonderful half-truth to be enjoyed, used for truth and refined via the realization of Godhood that is both present right here as well as beyond. Even absolute falsehood („The White Light“ - irrational beliefs that are based on fear or any ideology/system/condition that moralizes/humanizes/denies/suppresses/avoids the omnipotence of The Black Flame/God/Divinity) is indirectly manifested by God in order to fuel the paradoxical motion of both Omniverse and Otherworld. God Himself is The Holder Of Reality, Illusion, Truth, Falsehood, Mind, Flesh, Life, Death, The Omniverse And The Otherworld. God Himself is the Jailer, Prisoner, Liberator, The Wise, The Fool, The Genius, The Idiot, The Angel, The Devil, The Creator, The Transformer, The Destroyer, The King, The Wild Man, The Beast, The Warrior, The Magician, The Ever-Living Hedonist, The Long Dead Entropist, The Hero, The Villain, The Lover And Killer. He is The Lord of innumerable forms. Through Himself, He is God, The Lord And His Throne, and through His Wheels, He appears as The Goddess (Coatlicue, Prajna, Ishtar, Tannit, Mut, Kali Ma, Durga, Wild Woman, Lamia, Lilitu, Asherah, Shekhina) And His Deities. Thus, in all His ways, He can only remain The One: God Himself, IAOAI, The Inner Core And Outer Source Of The Gods.

The Golden Era of the Omniverse is already manifest - either visibly or subtly – as the only „Rule, Law and Government of All Planets“. Nature opposes neither Godhood nor divinity; it is anarchic harmony, a force of elemental beauty that may temporarily appear adversarial yet remains governed by divine will. Thus, Nature is "The Manifested Love of God"—a semi-divine energy enabling experience, consciousness, and soul. If pure Nature (Consciousness) reflects the unified liberty of mind and matter, then God alone reigns over this reality in ineffable ways.

Within the majesty of this cosmic artwork, no beauty surpasses IAOAI —a splendor transcending the seen and unseen. Time and space exist to be relished, yet both dissolve beneath God’s power, which perpetually creates, transforms, and annihilates existence in a single, eternal act. Because this is The Truth.